From Evidence to Individualisation: Redefining Prophylaxis in von Willebrand Disease

Monday, 13 July | 12:15-13:30 CEST | Room W03-04

Agenda

Advances in von Willebrand disease have improved care, but translating them into optimal prophylaxis remains a challenge. Join this interactive symposium to explore new clinical and real-world evidence, and learn how data-driven and PopPK-guided approaches can help individualise treatment strategies.
